What's all the Hoopla?

Alexander Keith's India Pale Ale traces its heritage back to 1820 when Alexander Keith purchased the Argyle Street brewery from Charles Boggs. The brewery was later moved to Lower Water Street in Halifax, NS.

Alexander Keith
1795 - 1873

By 1863, the brewery was producing over 100,000 litres of ale per year, equivalent to roughly 547 pints of beer a day.

Alexander Keith died in 1873, at 78 years of age. His funeral was one of the largest ever seen in Halifax.

Our brewing roots traces its roots back to 1366. It was then the Den Hoorn brewery was first established in Leuven, Belgium. A world-renowned brewing institution, Den Hoorn laid the foundation for the quality, taste and standard Stella Artois is known for today. To honor it, the symbol of the Den Hoorn Brewery is proudly displayed in the cartouche.

Then in 1708, Sebastian Artois became the master brewer at Den Hoorn. And only nine years later, such was his commitment, he was able to buy the brewery, putting his last name on it and eventually on every bottle of Stella Artois around the world.
